The Significance of Holocaust Literature in the Present-Day World 2021

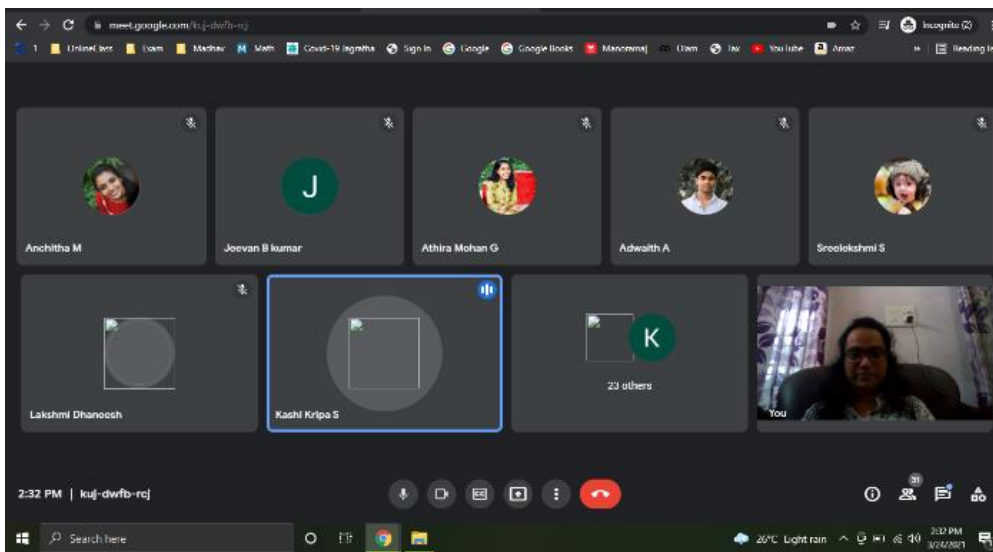

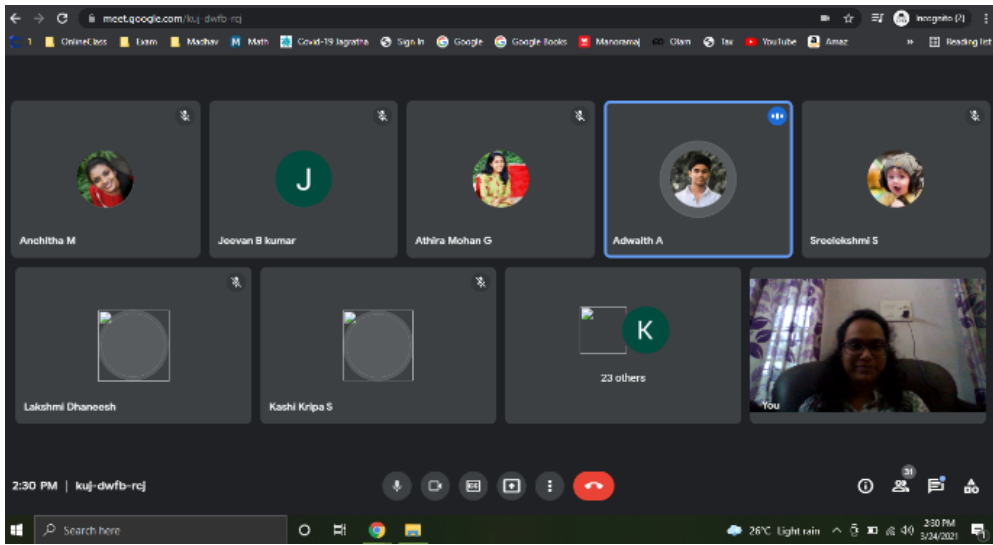

“I am German and am waiting for the Germans to come back; they have gone into hiding somewhere” (Victor Klemperer, 30 May 1942)

Increasing demand for competent communication skills of the present world scenario made us to think of a competition that is both interesting and helps the students to participate actively with full vigour and enthusiasm. So, the team of Communication Skill Development Committee has reached on conducting an extempore in times of this deadly pandemic. An extempore would make the students to make use of their communication skill pragmatically. Being a global language, English is not less important, rather inevitable, in the present scenario. So, we have decided to conduct the extempore in English.

For the year 2020-21, the Committee had conducted an extempore on the topic “The Significance of Holocaust Literature in the Present-Day World” 24th March 2021. The competition began at 2. 30 pm with Daiva Dashakam. The Committee convenor Smt Sarsha T S has administered the competition. Around twenty students have participated in the competition. A panel of three judges has been there to evaluate the performance of the students. Ms. K R Ragi, Assistant Professor, Department of English, Government Arts and Science College Kozhikode Meenchanda, Mr. Saron Saseendran, Assistant Professor, Department of English, Sree Narayana Guru College of Advanced Studies Cherthala and Mrs. Asha Carolin, Dept of Political Science, Panampilly Memorial Government College, Chalakudy were the judging panel.

In the competition, Ms. Kashi Kripa S, first semester BA English has secured the first prize. Mr. Adwaith A, first semester BA English and Ms. Bhagya Santhosh, bagged second and third prizes respectively.
