The college demonstrates a robust and multi-faceted Information Technology (IT) infrastructure, integrating a variety of modern platforms and services to support its academic and administrative functions. A foundational element of the campus technology is its comprehensive campus-wide Wi-Fi coverage. The institution employs a strategy of vendor diversity to ensure reliable network access, utilizing services from major providers including Asianet Satellite Communications Ltd. The core administrative and academic systems are well-defined. The college utilizes NECTTOS as its core management software for student data and Enterprise Resource Planning. In a comprehensive approach, the institution utilizes a vast array of LMS platforms including, Blackboard, Digital White Boards and Google classroom. The college is all set to introduce Moodle LMS in the next academic year. The college is all set to actively participate in key regional and national digital education initiatives, demonstrating alignment with broader institutional goals like Let's go Digital Digicol and KSHEC-Online Digital Repository.

The Digital Policy of the College is structured to govern the ethical, secure, and effective utilization of its extensive IT infrastructure (including its multi-cloud, multi-LMS, and Smart Campus solutions) by all members of the college community. The policy mandates that all use of college digital assets (Wi-Fi, LMS, ERP-NECTTOS, cloud platforms) must be primarily for academic and administrative purposes. It strictly prohibits illegal activities, the downloading of unauthorized or offensive content, and any action that compromises the integrity or performance of the college network. Users are made solely responsible for all activity under their accounts, necessitating the use of strong, confidential passwords.

The policy specifically governs the use of the diverse Learning Management Systems (Moodle, Canvas, Google Classroom, K-REAP). It enforces strict rules against digital plagiarism, unauthorized sharing of course materials, and any misuse of assessment platforms, thereby upholding academic honesty. Reflecting the college's use of Smart Campus Solutions, the policy extends to all connected devices. It reinforces existing college rules, such as the prohibition of mobile phone use in classrooms and examination halls, and bans unauthorized tampering with college hardware or software.
