On 19th June 2021, a tiny message was given to our students on National Reading Day by Ms. Nancy Paul, poet, writer, critic and academician. She has won many international accolades and is a regular contributor to many journals and anthologies and has to her credit three volumes of poetry.

On 23rd June 2021, Ms. Nancy Paul, gave another talk where she encouraged every little read. Inspiring one to read is a pretty good deed. And Nancy's talk was really an eye-opener to the vast world of fiction, where she expressed her deep admiration for the writer Paulo Coelho.

The Book Review Completion, invited much response in and around. And the results are planned to be declared by the end of July 2021.

The program was coordinated by Parvathy Ramachandran, Assistant Professor, Department of English. The Head of the Department, Ms. Soumya V.S offered all support to the full success of the program. And need not mention the other faculties of the department without them none of such activities are possible. The students of the department too are active participants of any activities that go on in the department.

And the department offers all thanks to the Principal-in-charge, Dr. Vinod Haridas, who takes all credit for the sole idea of Reading Club in the college and the coordinator of the Reading Club Dr. Sreeja V, Assistant Professor of Chemistry.
